FROM THE SONNY SIDE

Worship on the River

This Sunday, for our evening worship, we will meet at McFarland Park. We will worship at 5 PM. Some of us will be there at 3 PM with cold drinks and snacks. If you wish to come early, that will be great. After worship, we will have (cold) watermelons and cantaloupes.

Be sure and wear comfortable clothing, and bring lawn chairs if you have them. It is going to be hot, but we can expect a breeze (hopefully cool breeze) from the river.

We are in for a treat Sunday evening during worship. Greg Harper is going to share preaching time with me. I am looking forward to Greg's message.

We have three of our young men that we need to get into the pulpit. Gunnar Sherrill and Tyler Huggins have sermons that they preached during Titus Camp, and John Williams has prepared a lesson on faith that he wishes to preach.

I love, truly love, to hear young boys/men preach, and some old-timers like Greg.

For those who have stepped up recently, thanks for your growth in spiritual matters.

MISCELLANEOUS

STARVING

A story that we can draw a spiritual lesson from:

“I remember hearing a story a long time ago
about a problem in one of our national parks.
The bear population was going down and park rangers couldn't understand why. Actually, they knew the problem, the bears were starving to death, but they couldn't explain why the bears were starving because there was plenty of food.
They did a study and found out that the tourists who came to the park were to blame. During the summer months, tourists would come and feed
the bears, and by feeding them, the bears lost the ability to feed themselves. When the winter months came, they starved. No one was there to feed them.”

Copied

Wow, what lesson can we learn from these starving bears?

Note to Eastwood:

I would like to thank my Eastwood family for the very special care, love and genuine concern that has been bestowed upon me during my recent illness and the trip to Birmingham. All your prayers that have been asked, in my behalf, have been answered and gratefully appreciated. It is so humbling to know and realize how important it is to have Christian brothers and sisters and their support at times like this. May God bless each and every one of you.

In Christian Love, Mary Harper
